(2) the details of subsequent stages of selection and multiplication;
(3) evidence of uniformity and stability; and
(4) the type and frequency of variants during reproduction and multiplication and state how these variants may be identified.

Exhibit A. Origin and Breeding History

Pedigree: PHP02<PHR62>XXKC0245K2X

Pioneer Line PH1CP, Zea mays L., a dent corn inbred, was developed by the backcross breeding method, single seed descent and pedigree selection at Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. Variety PHP02 (PVP Certificate No. 8800212) was the recurrent parent. Variety PHR62 (PVP Certificate No. 8900320) was the donor parent. Varieties PHP02 and PHR62 are proprietary inbred lines of Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. After 2 doses of backcrossing with the recurrent parent, selfing and selection were practiced within the backcross population for 7 generations using pedigree selection. During line development, crosses were made to inbred testers for the purpose of estimating the line's combining ability. Yield trials were grown at Mankato, Minnesota, as well as other Pioneer research locations. After initial testing, additional hybrid combinations have been evaluated and subsequent generations of the line have been grown and hand-pollinated with observations again made for uniformity.

Variety PH1CP has shown uniformity and stability for all traits as described in Exhibit C - "Objective Description of Variety". It has been self-pollinated and ear-rowed 5 generations with careful attention paid to selection criteria and uniformity of plant type to assure genetic homozygosity and phenotypic stability. The line has been increased both by hand and in isolated fields with continued observations for uniformity and stability for a minimum of 3 generations during the final stages of inbred development and seed multiplication. Very high standards for genetic purity have been established morphologically using field observations and electrophoretically using sound lab molecular marker methodology.

No variant traits have been observed or are expected in PH1CP.

The criteria used in the selection of PH1CP were: recurrent parent plant type, yield, both per se and in hybrid combinations; late season plant health, grain quality, stalk lodging resistance, and kernel size, especially important in production. Other selection criteria include: ability to germinate in adverse conditions; number of tillers, especially important in production because having numerous tillers increases hybrid production costs spent on detasseling; disease and insect resistance; pollen yield and tassel size.

Exhibit B. Novelty Statement

Variety PH1CP mostly resembles Pioneer Hi-Bred International, Inc. proprietary inbred line PHP02 (PVP Certificate No. 8800212). The data in Tables 1A and 1B are from paired comparisons collected primarily in Johnston and Ankeny, IA. The data in Table 2 are from paired comparisons at multiple locations grown primarily in the adapted growing area of PH1CP. The traits collectively show measurable differences between the two varieties.

Variety PH1CP has longer husk extension length (5.6 cm vs 2.9 cm) than PHP02 (Table 1A, 1B, 1C).

Variety PH1CP has longer ear shank length (13.1 cm vs 9.7 cm) than PHP02 (Table 1A, 1B, 1C).

Variety PH1CP has a higher 1st generation European corn borer leaf feeding resistance score (7.0 vs 4.5) than PHP02 (Table 2).

Variety PH1CP has light green (1) primary silk color (Munsell Code = 2.5GY86) and PHP02 has salmon (9) primary silk color (Munsell Code = 2.5R56) (Figure 1).

CLARIFICATION OF DATA IN EXHIBITS B AND C

9900417

Please note the data presented in Exhibit C, "Objective Description of Variety," are collected primarily at Johnston and Ankeny, Iowa. The data in Exhibit B are from comparisons of inbreds grown in the same tests in the adapted growing area of PH1CP and in Johnston and Ankeny, Iowa. The data in Tables 1A and 1B are from paired comparisons collected in Johnston and Ankeny, Iowa. The data in Table 2 are from paired comparisons grown primarily in the adapted growing area of PH1CP. These traits collectively show distinct differences between the two varieties.

10/11/98
The data collected in exhibit C were collected in 1996, 1997 and 1998 for page 1 and 2. There are environmental factors that differ from year to year and environment to environment. The environments had different planting dates within each year. Environmental temperature and precipitation differences during the vegetative and grain fill periods can impact plant and grain traits and be a source of variability. These data are mostly based on 5 plants measured at each location. There often is more variability associated with year to year factors than from location to location or within locations. Please see Table 3 for average temperature and rainfall information in 1996, 1997 and 1998.

PLEASE NOTE:

Plant variety protection can be afforded only to owners (not licensees) who meet one of the following criteria:

If the rights to the variety are owned by the original breeder, that person must be a U.S. national, national of a UPOV member country, or national of a country which affords similar protection to nationals of the U.S. for the same genus and species.

If the rights to the variety are owned by the company which employed the original breeder(s), the company must be U.S. based, owned by nationals of a UPOV member country, or owned by national of a country which affords similar protection to nationals of the U.S. for the same genus and species.

If the applicant is an owner who is not the original owner, both the original owner and the applicant must meet one of the above criteria.

The original breeder/owner may be the individual or company who directed final breeding. See section 41(a)(2) of the Plant Variety Protection Act for definition.
